THE OIL REGIONS.

Production of the Month of March.

THE PIPE LINE GOSSIP.

Late Strikes in Pennsylvania and Virginia—Old Territory Revived.

The monthly report of the production and development of the Pennsylvania oil regions for the month of March, published in the Titusville Herald of yesterday, does not vary much from that for February. The following table shows the production during March, the average per day, the production previously reported in 1869, and the average per day since January 1st. The product from January 1st to April 1st last year, and the average per day for the same time:

[illegible]

... currently reported that the Pennsylvania Central Railroad is ready to spend over a hundred thousand dollars rather than to allow a pipe line to be laid from the oil regions to Erie. If the Pennsylvania Railroad owns the State Legislature, body and soul, (and there are lots of people ungenerous enough to think so) then Erie may as well make up her mind to continue to rusticate, so far as getting a charter for a pipe line is concerned, but if the legislators have any consciences at all, or value them enough to hold them at higher figures than any railroad monopoly dares offer, then the pipe line will be a certainty. We fear that the wad of greenbacks held before their eyes will be so thick that they cannot see aught else. One thing is certain. If there is no such bill passed through the present Legislature, the question of pipe line or no pipe line will be one that will have a good deal of weight in the next election for Assemblymen from this section, for the people are in earnest about it and will have their rights in this respect, if they can be obtained by fair means."

Mr. Duncan, Representative of Venango county in the House of Representatives, telegraphs his constituents as follows: "On motion to return the Free Pipe bill to the Senate, they beat us by forty-one to thirty. We are not losing ground by agitating the question."

The Venango Spectator soundly berates Senator James Brown for the gingerly manner in which he presented the remonstrance of more than two thousand of his constituents against the passage of the infamous Western Pipe Bill, and when there were no petitioners in its favor, for warmly urging its passage. Of the manner of the passage of the bill, the Spectator says: "It was snatched from the Com- [illegible] Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company was, we believe, the power that procured its passage. We have been in the habit of jesting at the "par values of Legislatures," and at the commercial enterprise of bargain and sale by which the lobby is said to make its yearly gains. Some persons have been pleased to note the relation of owner and servant which seems to exist between the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company and some of the members. It seems to us it is time that such subjects should receive a more serious consideration at the hands of the people. If corruption is the order of the day at Harrisburg, and we continue to close our eyes to it, we will only have ourselves to blame if in time we discover that some of our best rights have been auctioned away at the behest of a railroad company."

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

The Pacific Railroad Question.

Survey of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers—Amendment of Bankruptcy Law, &c., &c.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5, 1869.

SENATE.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Judiciary Committee, reported the bill prescribing an oath of office for persons who participated in the late rebellion, not disqualified from holding office by the fourteenth amendment.

Mr. SCHURZ introduced a bill making Cincinnati and St. Louis ports of entry.

The joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Union Pacific Railroad was taken up.

Mr. HOWARD offered an amendment appointing Generals Sheridan, Thomas, McDowell, Halleck and Thomas J. Crane a Board of Commissioners, with authority to re-establish the point of junction, which shall be on the line already approved by the Secretary of the Interior, the Board to report such point to the Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. SHERMAN agreed that the point of junction must be fixed on the general route contemplated by the Secretary of the Interior, but objected to the amendment of the Senator from Michigan, because it required the Commissioners to select some point on a designated line, as if a line had been fixed by law, which in his (Sherman's) judgment was not the fact. It was well known to every Senator that the line claimed to have been fixed by the Secretary of the Interior was in dispute, and that charges had been made in connection with it, and were being investigated in the House of Representatives. It was now necessary that the point of junction should be fixed by competent authority, because the rival roads were overlapping each other. The Union Pacific company had already completed its road thirty miles beyond Ogden.

Mr. CONKLING asked which was the line fixed by the Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. SHERMAN said that it was one of the disputed points, but however that might be, the responsibility of fixing the point of junction might after all rest on the President of the United States, and he (Sherman) therefore thought it better to place that responsibility upon the President at once, and let him select fit Commissioners, than for Congress to undertake to select army officers and send them away from their important official duties to do this.

Mr. WILLIAMS suggested to Mr. Sherman an amendment to his amendment to direct the President to fix the point of junction according to the legal rights of the respective companies.

The discussion was continued at length by Messrs. Thayer, Howard, Trumbull, Cole and Stewart, on points of controversy between the Central and Union Pacific Roads, as to where was the proper termini of the two roads, and the case of Fisk against the Union Pacific Railroad, in New York.

At four o'clock the Senate, without action, went into executive session, and subsequently adjourned.

OHIO ELECTIONS.

The Result in Mansfield, Crestline, Bucyrus, Massillon, Wooster and Salem.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MANSFIELD, April 5, 1869.

The city election here to-day was quite spirited, and a comparatively large vote was cast. The returns indicate the general success of the Democratic ticket by a considerable majority. The Republicans elect two Councilmen and probably three. A. Cummins, Democrat, for Mayor, has a majority of about two hundred and forty, being a Democratic gain of nearly three hundred since the Presidential election. It may be regarded as a whisky triumph.

At Bucyrus, Ohio, the entire Democratic ticket was elected, there being no opposition, and a light vote polled.

At Alliance the whole Republican ticket was elected without opposition.

At Massillon the entire Republican ticket was elected in the city and township by an average majority of one hundred and fifty—a gain of eighty over Grant's majority.

At Crestline a very heavy vote was polled. A People's ticket, composed of persons of both parties, was run against the regular Democratic ticket, and was elected by an average majority of one hundred and fifty. This is the first time this city has elected anything but the Democratic ticket since its organization.

At Wooster, Ohio, Chas. Frost, Republican, was elected Mayor. To the City Council, four Republicans and four Democrats were elected; a Republican clerk and a Democratic Street Commissioner were elected.

At Salem, Ohio, the following town officers were elected by various majorities: Mayor, C. Curry; Recorder, W. Eastman; Council—James Fawcett, William, Kidd, Lewis Keen, J. M. Stratton, J. Sharp: Treasurer, J. Kerr; Marshal, W. H. Boone—all Republicans. A workingmen's ticket was ran, but without success, against the regular Republican ticket.

A special from St. Paul says: The ice in front of the city commenced moving yesterday. A piece half a mile square fell down stream about one hundred yards, carrying with it the steamers Chippewa Falls and Ellen Hardy, and two Government store boats. This noon another piece moved, taking with it the wharfboat, which struck the Government steamer Montana, and carried it down a few yards, inflicting some damage on its bow. There are serious apprehensions expressed that if further movements take place before the ice is more broken, considerable damage will be done, not only to the above named boats, but also to the Lake Superior Railway bridge, on which the ice is now pressing heavily. The river is very high and rising rapidly.

NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH.

The following are some of the losses by the fire at Topeka, Kansas, on Saturday night: T P. Baker, owner of the State Record, $12,000, insured for $8,000; S. D. Late Mexican correspondence says: Civil war in the State of Tamaulipas continues to rage with unabated fury. A party of rebels under Vargas defeated Escobedo's troops near Villagrassa, capturing his equipage, archives, and twenty-seven thousand dollars in specie. The same party attacked the city of Linares, but were repulsed with heavy loss. Escobedo's policy towards the rebels is of the most bloody, relentless character; nothing but extermination satisfies him. He has given orders to have shot all foreigners who are not provided with passports. Two American traders on their return from Saltillo to the Rio Grande, were robbed by the military, shot and their bodies hung up on trees.

Navigation is now open between Lakes Huron and Erie. Boats left Detroit last night for Cleveland and Alpena.

The expenses of the Fire Department were $131,408, a decrease from the previous year of $6,236. The value of property belonging to the Department is $225,650, including ten engines, ten hose carriages, two thousand feet of hose, one hook and ladder truck, two fuel wagons, fifty-eight horses, etc.

The saddlery hardware establishment of Condict, Wooley & Co., No. 52 Lake street, Chicago, was badly damaged by fire and water last evening. Their loss is covered by insurance. C. Everswell & Co., wholesale boots and shoes, in the second story, had their stock damaged to the extent of $30,000.

It is reported that several ships of the Pacific squadron, including the flag-ship Powhattan and Mihongo, will be put out of commission on their arrival at San Francisco. Four prisoners, including Morton and Thompon, the express robbers, escaped from jail at White Plains, N. Y., Sunday night.

Chief Justice Chase yesterday denied a writ of error in the Twitchell case.

The Central Pacific railroad is completed to the six hundred and fortieth mile post. Since the removal of the Democratic Commissioners, seventy miles have been constructed, but there are no Commissioners authorized to examine and report upon the work. Track laying progresses at the rate of five miles a day. It is expected to reach Ogden in twenty days.

A large meeting of merchants and business men was held in St. Louis last night, to form a joint stock company, with a capital of $100,000, with the privilege of increasing it to a million, for the purpose of buying the surplus wheat which comes to that market, and ship it to New York or European ports. It is also the design of this company to induce shipments of grain to that point, so that purchasers can obtain any amount they desire, and at all times. Lieutenant Governor Stanard presided, and speeches were made by the chairman and others, all showing that the route to New York via New Orleans is not only practicable but decidedly the best and cheapest, and is bound ultimately to become the great avenue through which the grain of the Northwest and products of the Mississippi valley will reach the sea. Between $40,000 and $50,000 was subscribed on the spot, and the remainder, it is thought, will be taken in a day or two.

A "Turf Congress" meets in New Orleans to-day. A large number of delegates will be present from various racing associations.

Marshal Herron, of New Orleans, yesterday took possession of the Opelousas Railroad, and will continue it in operation as usual. An inventory is to be taken and the road sold.

Perry, Adolphus Meir, C. S. Greeley, Wm. M. McPherson, S. M. Edgell, and Wm. J. Palmer, of St. Louis; Thomas L. Price, of Jefferson City; Wm. H. Clement and Hugh J. Jewett, of Ohio, and Thomas A. Scott and John McManus, of Pennsylvania. The board organized by the re-election of John D. Perry as President. The annual report of the company shows that the gross earnings of the road for 1868 were $910,000; net earnings, $873,000; operating expenses, fifty-four per cent. of the gross earnings, a decrease of twelve per cent. from 1867. In addition the net proceeds of the land department were over $255,000, and total income of the company from all sources over $2,100,000. Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—This evening two very deserving members of Manager Canning's company, Mr. and Mrs. Vandeeren, will have a benefit, and if one-tenth of those who have enjoyed their really excellent performances during the season should endeavor to attend, the Opera House will not accommodate them. No matter what the character assigned either of these artists may be, it is always judiciously and acceptably performed. They present a bill of varied attractions, such as cannot fail to entertain and amuse, and we expect to see every seat occupied this evening.

Miss Dargon, the accomplished leading lady of the company, will have a benefit on Friday evening, when East Lynne will be performed.

PITTSBURGH THEATER.—There was a large audience here last evening, and the new stars were well received. Miss Annie Hindle is a charming singer, and Bolus is hard to excel as a comic vocalist.

AMERICAN THEATER.—There was a perfect jam here last evening to witness the wonderful feats of the Arabs, who are genuine attractions. The Dashwood sisters remain only this week. A splendid bill is announced for this evening.

A CARPET-BAGGER.—On Saturday evening, a man, whose name we could not learn, went into the saloon of George W. Rohe, 409 Liberty street, and asked if he could leave his traveling bag and bundle there for a day or two. Mr. Rohe was not in at the time, but the property was left in the care of the barkeeper. Monday morning William Davis, who was in the saloon when the bag and bundle were deposited there, called and asked for the articles. Mr. Rohe thought of course he was the owner, and gave them to him. Not long afterward the real owner came and inquired for his goods, which he said were valued at about $50, but he got them not. Yesterday afternoon Davis went back to the saloon and said he had made a mistake, but as he did not return them, an officer was called and he was locked up for a hearing.

FORESTALLING THE MARKET.—Officers Messner and Wringley, market constables, yesterday made informations before Mayor Brush, charging James Freeman, Agnew & Co., and Andrew Scott with forestalling the market. The parties were arrested and fined five dollars and costs each.

Produce Market Report,

CORRECTED WEEKLY,
Expressly for Shippers and Dealers,
BY
Morrison & Devol,
General Commission Merchants,
75 WATER STREET.

PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, April 6, 1869.

Review of the Market.

An active business has prevailed in one or two items, but the general Produce Market continues in about the same channel as reported last week. Provisions heavy, yet prices remain unchanged. Our advices from Chicago and Cincinnati are of such a nature that by next week we shall have to report prices for all hog products at less figures than to-day. Breadstuffs have continued dull, with prices generally favoring buyers. Rye dull and drooping. Barley quiet and nominal. Corn a shade easier, and Oats without decided change. Butter and Eggs firm, the latter very scarce. Dried Apples are becoming very scarce, and prices remain firm.

Our quotations are as follows which are from store, unless otherwise noted.

APPLES—Choice $5 00 to $6 00; fair to good $3 50 to $4 00.

APPLE BUTTER—In good demand at 90c to $1.

BUTTER—The demand for a choice article is still kept up, and prices remain unchanged. Packed choice yellow, 28 to 30c; common and inferior, 25 to 26c. Roll—choice sweet selected, in tubs and firkins 45 to 48c; good and sweet in barrels and kegs, 38 to 42c; common and streaked, 28 to 33c.

BEANS—The tendency is still downward, and our quotations can only be maintained for small lots. Choice Navy, $3 25 to $3 50; medium $3 00; split and inferior, $2 00 to $2 25.

BACON, LARD, &c.—Market heavy, with a drooping tendency. Mess Pork, $32 00; S. C. Hams, 18½ to 19½c; Plain Hams, 17 to 18c; S. C. Shoulders, 15 to 15½c; Plain Shoulders, 14 to 14½c; C. and R. Sides, 17 to 18c. Lard in tierces, 19 to 19½c; buckets and jars, 20 to 21c; country in kegs, 18 to 19c. Tallow—city rendered, 12½c; country rendered, 13c.

CORN MEAL—Kiln dried, cold bolted, $4 00 ₩ bbl of 4 bush, 90 to 95c ₩ bush; unbolted, $1 70 to $1 75 ₩ 100 lbs.; corn chopped $1 50 ₩ 100 lbs.

CHEESE—Market almost bare, and prices are very firm. Goshen, 24 to 25c; Western Reserve, 23 to 24c; Country, 20 to 21c.

EGGS—The stock on the market for ten days has been very light, and prices have again advanced, something unusual after Easter. Warranted fresh, 30c.

FRUIT—The receipts of Dried Apples is not sufficient to supply immediate wants, and prices are somewhat stiffer. Choice bright, 13c; fair to good, 11½ to 12½c; Dried Peaches in good demand for choice halves, at 18 to 19c; quarters 14 to 15c; quarters and halves mixed 15 to 16c.

GRAIN—Very few transactions; the wheat market has been extremely dull for some time and strongly in the favor of buyers. Oats continue in good demand. Spring Wheat, $1 40 to $1 45; Winter Wheat, $1 50 to $1 55. Oats, 72 to 75c. Rye $1 40. Corn 86c. Spring and Fall Barley $1 90 to $2 10.

The Daily Commercial.

TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1869.

The Spanish Minister of War, Marshal Prim, is making preparations to carry out the programme devised by the Provisional Government for rendering their place permanent under Montpensier. He has demanded the enrolment of 80,000 men for the present year. This, with the army already at the Minister's disposal, will render resistance on the part of the Republicans a risky business, and insure at least a successful beginning of the new monarchy. As the Cortes has accommodated Prim in every other matter, it is fair to presume his last demand will be immediately complied with.

The Philadelphia Post, deprecating the "inexcusable apathy" which prevents that city from keeping its place in the grand movement of progression, says of "some of its excellent institutions:"

> "They are well established; they possess elements of great value and stability; they are certainly of benefit to the community; but they are not progressive. Acting more as anchors to prevent retrogression in public intelligence than the engines to carry it onward, they are of high value, but they are not valuable enough."

This is a bad state of affairs, but unless we are content to permit Pittsburgh to be numbered among the "anchored" cities, we should display some energy in fostering the few progressive institutions among us, and immediately set about organizing others which will develop still greater prosperity to our people. Don't let us "anchor out" for the present, at least.

Human nature is always the same—especially Spanish human nature. Pick up any history of Spain, and open it at random. There is nothing but a long list of cowardly, cruel, bloodthirsty deeds, from the rule of Charles V. to the deeds sanctioned by Dulce in Cuba. We can easily understand how securely the operations of the Inquisition were conducted under Spanish management. Napier and Motley have prevented any chance of a misconception of the diabolical spirit which has always animated the Spaniards in their contests with other nations, and their still more horrible civil struggles. Anything more repulsive, bloodthirsty or revolting than the recent "executions" sanctioned by Dulce it would be impossible to conceive.

The statement that the Secretary of State has expressed the opinion that the time is not opportune for recognizing the Cuban insurgents as belligerents will doubtless gratify the reflecting portion of the public. Although it cannot be denied that such action on the part of our Government would operate speedily in favor of the insurgents, we question whether the loss on our part would not outweigh the gain to the Cubans. The English diplomats would not fail to employ the proceeding to our disadvantage in the discussion of the Alabama claims. It is true that the scenes of cruelty enacted in Cuba warrant the interference of all civilized nations, but it is equally true that the admission of this principle would also afford a pretext to the English Government for its early recognition of the rebels as belligerents. A resolution of sympathy, such as that drawn up by Banks, will answer every purpose at present, and cannot complicate our relations with other powers.

A TEST CASE.

The case of Real, the New York murderer, affords a remarkable illustration of the fruits which invariably springs from an alliance between the officers of the law and the criminal portion of the community. The facts in the case briefly are these: Real was a recognized leader of a gang of reckless ruffians, whose services were deemed indispensable to the success of the Democracy. They were employed upon all occasions where the ballot was employed to give expression to the popular voice. The duties of the criminal gangs which infest New York are two-fold. They are charged with the task of overawing and intimidating the respectable portions of the community at the polls. In order to secure their ends, they permit nothing to restrain them; the pistol, knife, knuckles and bludgeon are called in requisition at a moment's notice, and in carrying out their designs murders have been committed with an impunity shocking to contemplate. As a matter of course, the control of the ballot enables them to practice the "repeating" process to whatever extent they please. A single ward managed in this way contributes largely to a given object. The murderer Real headed one of the ruffianly gangs employed by the Democracy. As a reward for his services, he was made Deputy Sheriff. Conceiving a hatred for a police officer named Smedick, assured that the party which claimed his allegiance would not permit him to be punished for the commission of the deed, and willing to risk imprisonment in order that he might glut his revenge, he waylaid and killed the victim of his enmity. Unfortunately for the murderer, his act was the culmination of a long series of outrages against law and order. The murder was conceived in cold blood, executed deliberately, and in such a manner as to direct public attention to the peculiar circumstances attending it. Murder, outrage, arson and theft had made such inroads upon the party encouraging the criminal gangs, that its leaders were compelled, in self-defense, to consult together and devise measures for the protection of their lives and property. Since the trial of Real, it has transpired that the leading Democrats of New York, at a secret meeting, agreed upon measures looking towards their own safety, and agreed to stand by each other in enforcing the laws. They felt that the servants in crime were fast becoming the masters. In pursuance of this understanding, one of the least scrupulous, but at the same time one of the most courageous Judges of New York, proceeded to sentence the more noted of those criminals brought before him, imposing in every case the extreme penalty of the law. When the murderer Real was brought before him his friends openly proclaimed that justice in his case, at least, would not be permitted to take its course. They flocked to the court room, crowded it to suffocation, and evinced such deep hostility to the legal proceedings that Judge Barnard was compelled to call in to his assistance a powerful guard, in order to prevent a rescue, of which he had been forewarned. Knowing that a plan had been arranged to rescue Real the moment sentence of execution should be pronounced, he contrived to convey the impression to the excited crowd that sentence would be deferred until the morning. It was given out that the Judge had gone home, and the friends of Real sullenly withdrew. The jury had their verdict ready by midnight, and Judge Barnard, who had never left the Court House, immediately called the prisoner before him and sentenced him to be hanged. This act drew down upon Judge Barnard the enmity of the entire body of ruffians. It is boldly declared that from that hour to this the Judge's footsteps have been dogged by the associates of the convicted murderer. But notwithstanding all the threats and importunities of those who have employed, and who yet dread the criminal gangs, Judge Barnard has steadfastly refused to change his course. Failing to influence him, the friends of the murderer next applied to the Governor, who refused to interfere. The murderer was sentenced to be hung on the 2d inst. Real's friends still exerted themselves, and at the last moment, we are informed, Judge Sutherland granted a stay of proceedings.

Throughout the proceedings Real displayed the character of as arrant a coward as ever disgraced the earth. The man who was perfectly at home when guarded by pistols and bludgeons, quailed from the moment sentence of death was pronounced against him. No reason has been assigned for Judge Sutherland's course in this matter, and the better portion of the New York public are naturally curious to learn the guiding motive. In the meantime, Real's case is universally accepted as a test case. The Vigilance Committees have taken the matter up, and it is freely admitted that the final disposition will show whether the scum of Five Points, and the "Nineteenth Street Gangs" or the respectable portion of the populace are to rule the city hereafter.

We have endeavored, in alluding to Real's case, to present the facts as brought out in the trial, and freely admitted by the leading Democrats of New York. It is notorious that the friends of the murderer openly defied the law, declaring on the street corners, in places of public amusements and in the saloons, that no Judge, and least of all a Democratic Judge, dare convict and sentence a Democratic official! The threats uttered increased in recklessness and audacity until the men who owed their political success to the efforts of the murderous gang, fearing to provoke an open breach, had recourse to strategem, or, to employ the language of the ruffians whose aid they had so often relied upon, "they went back on them." In other words, that portion of the Democracy which enjoyed the best offices, and which is responsible for the government of the city, have broken the alliance which has hitherto bound them to the ruffians whose deadly weapons they have employed for their special benefit. The breach of faith has been completed in those wards in which the Democracy exert unlimited sway, and is composed largely of thieves, burglars and murderers. In these wards the Democracy have organized Vigilance Committees, from which, we are told, the ruffians are rigorously excluded. Thus it seems that the principal efforts of the dominant party in New York are employed at present in the effort to check the frightful growth of the crimes resulting directly from the system upon which the past successes of the party is based. Thus, while the law abiding people of New York await with anxiety the final disposition of the Real case, the Republicans there and elsewhere will naturally view the termination of the struggle for supremacy with no little interest, since it cannot be denied that the future of the Democracy as well as the course of justice in New York will be sensibly affected by the result.

A MODEL OF COURAGE AND CLEMENCY.

It is a great pity that Cervantes died a century or so too soon to do justice to the history of Dulce, the Captain General of Cuba. Dulce's last proclamation begins with the following declaration:

> "People of the Island of Cuba: I have fulfilled my word to you. I have offered justice to you and prompt justice, and the entire population of Havana has yesterday witnessed one of those terrible spectacles which, although they make humanity tremble, are necessary in especial moments, and when treason raises the flag of extermination."

The magnanimous Dulce then reminds his readers that the moment chosen for a great "scandal" occurred "just that moment when the generosity of the Supreme Government of the nation by means of an overstrained resolution, the responsibility of which I accept, put in security the existence of so many others, not less culpable, perhaps, but more astute, as more accustomed not to break pledges which might draw upon the severity of the laws." Broken up into brief English Dulce desires to take to himself extraordinary credit for saving the lives of two hundred and fifty prisoners, whose blood the populace thirsted for, and who were transported to Fernando Po. It was an "overstrained resolution" which prevented Dulce from dealing out "justice, prompt justice" to the poor political prisoners by the use of bullets and bayonets. The "terrible spectacle" alluded to was the cold blooded murder of a young man on the wharf, who cried "Die Spain," and a police officer who endeavored to shield him from the brutality of the volunteers. This Dulce terms a "notable example of criminal ingratitude." In the very next line he adds: "Volunteers! your prudence was yesterday the solid cement of public order; your discipline to-day a vigorous element, making more robust the undiminished prestige of the authority. * * * To the merit of the military services which, without wearing the uniform of a soldier, you are lending to our country, add now with pride the honorable laurel of good citizens, protectors of property and family." The exquisite irony pervading this address can be appreciated only by those who are aware that it was literally wrung from a man who, while boasting that "his blood had run many times in defense" of the honor of his country, trembled lest the volunteers should put in practice the threats they made against his life when they shouted, "Die, Dulce!" Perhaps, on the whole, it is as well that a second Cervantes cannot be found to chronicle the exploits of the doughty Dulce, and the "generosity" of the volunteers in their efforts to "protect property and life." If Dulce will issue a few more proclamations, and indulge in an address to his "meritorious military citizens" now and then, there will be no necessity for a historian.

THE BRIDGE QUESTION

The Congress of the United States claims a protectorate over the Ohio river in behalf of the whole country. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad managers represent the interest of the stockholders of the corporation. The contest in regard to the bridge spans, is between the interests of millions of citizens, and the interest of a few millionaires. The proportion as to the number of individuals interested on the one side and the other, aptly measures the relative magnitudes of the interests involved. The wide spans are contended for on the one hand to prevent incalculable injury to hundreds of millions of commerce, and lead to a serious increase in the cost of fuel to millions of people who are dependent upon the unobstructed channel of the Ohio for their supplies. The narrow spans are contended for, on the other hand, merely that thirty or forty thousand dollars at the most, may be saved for a rich corporation in the construction of a bridge.

This is the gist of the matter as developed by the testimony of the distinguished engineers before successive committees of Congress, and why that body so long hesitates to pass an act to protect the great interests which are imperilled by the delay, is unaccountable.

A Correspondent of a New York journal, commenting on the style of instruction imparted to the pupils in the New York schools, says: "While the girls are taught music—with a vengeance—and a smattering of French and German, their mother tongue is greatly neglected. They cannot spell ordinary words. You may go into any school any day, and you will find that two-thirds of the pupils cannot spell ache, scissors, heifer, and such words. Let me give you a few examples from memory. A class of large girls in a Grammar school were recently puzzled over the word celebrate, which they spelled sellebrate; cider was spelled with an 's,' pony with two 'n's,' and favor with 'e,' instead of 'a.'" The New York schools must be modeled upon a system similar to that of the majority of our fashionable boarding schools, where the pupils paint beautiful cascades and mangle French to the great neglect of fractions and orthography.

People who have a fancy for Ann Radcliffe's novels, or books built upon the doings of the Borgias, need not lack for thrilling sensations appealing directly to their knowledge of the times in which we live. If any one desires to indulge the fancy of experiencing the romantic discomforts which rendered Venice so tantalizing under the rule of hired bravos, he has only to procure the New York journals. In the local and editorial columns of those journals he will find ample material to disturb his dreams. It is a rare day that fails to produce its victim of the pistol, bludgeon or dagger. All the horrors are first-class, mysterious and terribly suggestive. Within the past week no less than three horrible murders have been committed under peculiarly mysterious circumstances, and up to the last account not a single victim had been identified.

A New York exchange finds fault with Professor Blackie, of Edinburg, for locating hell in New York. The Professor perpetrated a political poem, in which it is evident New York happened to rhyme best with "uncork." That is the truth of the matter. But the New York journal takes umbrage at the Professor's freedom, and retorts that "it is not true that hell is in New York any more than in London, Paris, Vienna or Edinburg"—to which we will add, or "Glasgow." If all that we have heard of Hellgate in Glasgow, or the slums of old Edinburg, be true, we are quite sure that we have nothing on this continent that can compare with the depravity, filth, crime, wretchedness, ignorance and beastliness to be found in those cities. Therefore we think the Professor might find a better simile at home.

An exchange, discussing the appointment of General Longstreet, says that he is the most unpopular of all the rebel commanders in the South to-day. It adds: "His unpopularity however, is only for a day; in another generation it will be seen how truly wise and great he has been." We doubt if a single individual of all the number who profess to despise his course can be found who does not acknowledge to himself that in braving public opinion in the South, General Longstreet has displayed greater courage than he who advances to the cannon's mouth. Longstreet's reputation for bravery on the field sinks into insignificance when compared with his moral courage.

Two of the members of the jury which convicted Twitchell have made an affidavit to the statement that they joined in the verdict under the belief that the Court commanded them to return a verdict in half an hour. They add that the impression was general among the jury that they had no other course to pursue but to return a verdict of guilty in the time specified by the Judge, who, it seems, said to the jury "the Court will wait half an hour for the verdict." We presume the same "intelligent" jurors would return a verdict in three minutes if the Court expressed an intention to "wait" only that length of time upon their decision.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

London Fun reports that the Peace Society is considering the feasibility of reducing the height of the Alps below the line of perpetual snow. Their reason for wishing to do this is, that at present these mountains endanger the peace of Europe, as they give rise to piques and produce coolness between France and Switzerland and Italy.

The importance of little things was illustrated the other day in the case of a man who was brought before the Common Pleas Court of Union county, Indiana, charged with the larceny of a bag of wheat, the value of which was proven to be, at the market price, four dollars and ninety-nine and seven-twelfths cents. This crime, therefore, was petit larceny, and he was sentenced to jail for sixty days. Five-twelfths of a cent more would have sent him to the penitentiary.

A good story is told by the Richmond Dispatch: A colored soldier affixed his mark to an application for back pay and bounty. While the claim was passing through the department he learned to write, and signed his name to the additional papers subsequently required, and the Red Tape Bureau, astonished at his quickness, declared the latter signature to be a forgery.

The Houston Telegraph has news from all parts of Texas, to the effect that planters are actively engaged. Corn is generally planted and a great deal of it is already up. A larger breadth of land will be put in cotton than any year since the war. The freedmen have generally gone to work, and there is less complaint of their idleness than usual.

Our Maine exchanges say that there is a great surplus of potatoes in that State, of an unusually fine quality; and that before planting time the prices will become considerably reduced. The supply in the west this spring is also very large.

It is a curious fact that gold was discovered in California in 1848, and the rush to the Pacific coast took place in 1849. Silver was discovered at Washoe in 1858, and the immigration thither commenced in 1859. The fabulous treasures of White Pine were discovered in 1868, and during this year of 1869 a prodigious human tide will set toward the new Silverado from both sides of the continent. The movements of the car of progress seems to be by decades.

At eleven o'clock P. M. Friday night Gainesberry & Co.'s four story brick bonded warehouse at Frankfort, Ky., was destroyed by fire, together with 3,300 barrels of whisky stored therein, involving a loss of $350,000.

Andrew Johnson addressed an assemblage of five thousand persons at Knoxville Saturday. He intends to devote the remainder of his life to the vindication of his official career.

Mexican advices via Acapulco are received. The revolutionary troubles continue. A long manifesto was largely secretly circulated. It cites the intrigues, duplicity and despotism of the Juarez government, and urges its overthrow, substituting either Gen. Porfirio Diaz, Manuel Rivez or Sanchez Navarez as provisional depositories of the supreme power.

The building occupied by the State Record newspaper and several business firms at Topeka, Kansas, was burned Saturday night—the work of an incendiary. Loss not ascertained.

Late Arizona advices state that the Indians in the neighborhood of Tucson interrupted a mail coach and badly wounded the driver. He managed, however, to escape with the mail. Two Mexicans were murdered by savages within thirty miles of Tucson. The people at Prescott, finding the military unable to punish the Indians for the murders and depredations committed, organized a scouting party and started on the war path, determined to revenge the death of friends. The risk of transportation and communication with the outside world had affected the prices of necessities throughout the territory. Flour at Prescott is twenty-seven dollars per hundred, and other articles proportionately high.

The coaling of an American war vessel in the Bay of Samana caused great excitement among the Dominicans, who are said to be unwilling to part with any of their territory.

STATE NEWS.

Wm. Garrity, a brakeman on the Erie Railroad, fell from the top of a box car near the Jamestown and Franklin crossing, on the morning of the 28th ult., and was run over and instantly killed.

Martin Logan, an employe of the Cambria Iron Works, had both legs badly mutilated the other day by a coal car on an inclined plane near the mill.

A new postoffice called Colfax has been established in Union township, Huntingdon county, on the route from Mill Creek to Cassville, and Ephraim Chilcoat appointed postmaster.

Huntingdon boasts of a little colored boy named Harry Gantz, who knows half the New Testament, and frequently goes home from church able to repeat the sermon nearly verbatim.

Miles McBride, a carpenter, of Armstrong county, died a few days ago from the effects of exposure to intense cold. He left the Great Western Iron Works late in the day, with a carpet sack filled with carpenter's tools, was overcome by fatigue and cold, and was found the next morning near the residence of Mr. Friel, in Butler county, and died the same evening.

Malinda Snyder, a mute, left her father's residence in Perry county, about the 18th of March, and has not been heard of since. She is about twenty years of age, five feet high, and weighs about one hundred and fifty pounds. Any information of her communicated to her father, David Snyder, Sandy Hill Postoffice, will be an act of great kindness.

The Mining Register says: "Persons unaware that Pennsylvania is a duplicate of England in underground resources, also that Philadelphia is the operating basis and focus of more important railroad communications than any other city, affect astonishment at the, to them, amazing growth of Philadelphia; whereas its expansion, accumulation, increase, is the logical sequence of its diversified industries, natural advantages, facilities and surroundings."

Dr. James M. Stewart, one of the oldest citizens of Indiana, died in that borough on the 9th ult., in the seventy-eighth year of his age. In the winter of 1851-2, Mr. Stewart was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, but, we are informed, "remained only a part of the session, when completely disgusted with the position, he asked leave of absence and returned to his practice."

The Clarion Banner says: A man named Francis Cope, while engaged in shingling a house, slipped from the roof to the ground and was instantly killed. He was buried on Monday last. He had his life insured for ten thousand dollars. He lived in Callensburg.

The Baptists of Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland county, have just dedicated a new church edifice, which cost about $11,500.

John R. Sankey, a resident of Mercer county, died suddenly in his seat at the table of the Crawford House, New Castle, on the 27th ult. He was about seventy years of age.

The Meadville Republican has been materially enlarged and improved, and is now as handsome in appearance as any inland daily. Mr. J. C. Hays, an old and experienced editor, has taken the place of Mr. C. W. Tyler as one of the editors and proprietors of the Republican. We are glad to note the prosperity of Messrs. White & Co.

The Odd Fellows of Oil City will dedicate their new hall in that place on the 29th of April. The brotherhood at Titusville, Franklin, Meadville and Clarion are invited to be present and participate in the dedication.

Secretary of the Navy.

[From the Army and Navy Journal.]

It is altogether probable that Mr. Borie will not continue at the head of the Navy Department throughout the administration. In his late speech in answer to an address of congratulation he distinctly hinted as much; and we have advices from Washington which indicate that his resignation will not be long delayed. Mr. Borie is a gentleman of very large wealth and extensive business interests, with which his continuance in the Navy Department would greatly interfere, even if his health should admit of his retaining a seat in the Cabinet. The high character, social culture, genial manners, business experience, and liberal views of a gentleman like Mr. Borie, are admirable qualities for the head of the Navy Department to possess, and the navy will much regret the necessity of his resignation.

James Harper, who died in New York last week from injuries sustained on being thrown from his carriage, seems to have had an almost prophetic warning that his career was soon to close. All his life he had been in the habit in his family devotions, to pray to be "delivered from sudden death." About two weeks ago he omitted this petition, saying that after all it might be God's will to take him suddenly, and if so, it was "all right," he was "ready." He also told a friend only a few days ago that he would some morning take up a newspaper and read, "Died, suddenly, James Harper." Also, in speaking of St. Luke's Hospital, he remarked that should any accident ever happen to him, like being thrown from his carriage, he would like to be carried there. In less than a week after these words were spoken the very accident which he mentioned did occur, and he was taken to the same St. Luke's Hospital, where he died.

An exchange says: "The political troubles in Tennessee seem to have all quieted down, since 'Parson' Brownlow ceased to be Governor of the State. The militia who were under arms are returning to the duties of civil life, and leading men of all parties have successfully exerted themselves to maintain peace and order. Brownlow had a remarkable ability for keeping himself in hot water, and for keeping in hot water everybody else with whom he had anything to do, and he managed to keep the State of Tennessee in hot water during the entire term of his Governorship."

Of Lamartine it is said that the original manuscripts of all his works are in the possession of his family, and throughout the whole of this immense collection of manuscripts, scarcely an erasure or correction is to be found. This is especially observable in the case of his volumes of the "History of the Girondins," each volume of which costs the editor £1,000. In his dress he retained the old fashions of his youth, and always wore the narrow coat and tight trousers which were worn in the palmy days when the cut of Count d'Orsay's coat was the model of all well dressed bipeds.

Ex-Governor Parsons made a conservative speech at Ashland, Clay county, Ala., a few days ago, in which he advised the people to forget past political differences, and unite in an effort to rebuild their shattered fortunes. He counseled moderation, obedience to law and the observance of good order, and urged the people to use all the means in their power to secure a representation in Congress by citizens of the State. He expressed confidence in Governor Smith, and thought it fortunate for the State that this office was in the hands of an Alabamian, who had interests in common with themselves.

The report is renewed that Senator Sumner's speech on the Alabama claims will say plainly to England that she is indebted to the United States for ships destroyed, for years of commerce swept away, for heavy bills incurred in maintaining an immense blockade, for troubles and damages along the Canadian frontier, and more than all, and worse than all, the prolongation of the war and the consequent expenses in life and treasure. The pacific part, so far as can be learned, consists in saying to Great Britain: These things are plain; they need no proof, and the way to settle it all is to sit down in a friendly spirit and agree upon fair terms based on the above admissions.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

The Allegheny Valley Road.

A Long Pending Quarrel Adjusted.

The Clearfield Republican of last week says: "The long pending quarrel between the Pennsylvania Railroad, Allegheny Valley and the Winslow Colliery, with reference to the building of a road from the mouth of Mahoning creek, on the Allegheny river, to the mouth of Bennett's Branch, on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, has at length been settled, and the road will be speedily made. It will pass across the western end of this county, through Brady, Union and Huston townships, and will have the lowest grade of any railroad running between the Eastern and Western States. The grade will not exceed twenty-six feet, while the lowest grade on any of the roads now made is seventy-three feet.

"The only point not settled with reference to this road, is whether it shall enter our county by the Mahoning Valley route or the Red Bank. We are somewhat familiar with both these valleys, and are decidedly in favor of the Mahoning route, as the most feasible, because it is the most direct and the lowest grade. Besides, the Sandy Lick coal fields can be reached by this as well as by the other route. A glance at any State map will establish this fact."

—The Mount Union News wants aid to build a low grade railroad to connect with the Allegheny Valley and New York through railway, and says: The Legislature of Pennsylvania have authorized the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company to connect their railroad (via the Mahoning Valley) with the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad and New York Railroads, and loaned the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company four millions of securities, owned by the State of Pennsylvania in exchange for their second mortgage bonds. Hence there will ere long be a railway from New York through the Northern counties of Pennsylvania to the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad. The proposed railway will intersect the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad so far north and west of Pittsburgh as to turn the trade of the upper Ohio Valley through the northern counties of Pennsylvania to New York! The die is cast! and as matters now appear to us our Philadelphia friends are left out in the cold so far as the northwestern commerce is concerned! To understand the advantage New York has thus obtained, draw a line from the Allegheny Valley Railroad one hundred miles northwest of Pittsburgh, and thence via the Mahoning and Bennet's Branch to the New York and Erie Railroad! When this through New York Railroad is built trade and travel from Erie and all Northern Ohio and Pennsylvania will flow to New York city, unless the merchants of Baltimore and Philadelphia unite with us in building a low grade railroad from the head of canal and steamboat navigation in the Juniatta Valley to intersect the proposed Allegheny Valley and New York through railway! We think our Philadelphia friends have been badly advised and the life of our commercial emporium been severely, perhaps treacherously assailed in the house of its friends.

—The people of the Genesee Valley, New York, are agitating the project of a railroad from Rochester, south on the west side of the Genesee river to the State line, thence to connect with the Philadelphia and Erie road, and thence to the coal regions, the road to run through Caledonia, York, Castile, Wellsville, &c., whole distance to Philadelphia and Erie road two hundred miles.

—The Jersey Shore, Pa., Herald urges the citizens of that place to put it in railroad connection with the rest of the world by building a road to the depot of the Philadelphia and Erie road, which is about two miles off.

—The Albany Argus says that subscriptions are being taken in that city to the capital stock of a company that proposes to build a railroad from Albany westward, the ultimate object being to secure the completion, by the coalition interested, of a series of railroads forming a continuous line to the West. It is contemplated to build the road on the west side of the Mohawk river. Prominent gentlemen in Albany are interested in and promoting the movement, and it is said eastern capitalists are actively engaged.

—The Toledo Commercial says: "The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has leased for a term of years, with privilege of indefinite extension, the Sandusky, Mansfield and Newark road, extending from Sandusky to Newark. The object and importance of this lease will be understood when it is borne in mind that the Baltimore and Ohio already controls the Central Ohio, between Newark and the Ohio river at Bellaire. This arrangement makes the leased road a branch of the Baltimore and Ohio, and thus virtually brings that rich and powerful road to the lake."

—The Sunbury Gazette says the Northern Central Railroad Company will, during the coming summer, continue the laying of the double track from Harrisburg to Sunbury. This work was suspended some time ago, but at least thirty miles, if not all of the distance between the two points, will be laid during the summer. The road has been prepared for some time for the second track.

—It is stated that it is the intention of the Panama Railroad Company, on the opening of the Union Pacific Road, immediately to reduce the present extravagant fare ($25 in gold for forty-seven miles), so as to aid the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in competing with the Union Pacific Railroad. The steamship company will doubtless likewise cut down its own rates of fare so as to retain a considerable portion of travel. Furthermore, the water route will, for some time to come, retain the bulk of all but fast freights, owing to the heavy tariff which rail transit for so long a distance would necessitate.

—The Hagerstown, Md., Mail says: The work on this railroad, which, when completed, will bring Hagerstown in direct communication with Washington City, is progressing at different points on the line, but not with such rapidity, we learn, as will insure its completion within the next year, as was at one time anticipated. The opening of this line of communication will be a great thing for our county, as well as for all portions of the Union west of us.

Tea Swindlers.

Within a few years a large number of tea companies have sprung up in the metropolis, which claim to import direct from China, to furnish a superior article at reduced rates, and which advertise largely all over the country. One street is fairly lined for a considerable distance with them. We are assured by those claiming to know, that several of these tea establishments are organized frauds upon the people; that they use the leaves of the Camelia, which so closely resemble genuine tea that they are frequently mistaken for them by botanists; that they largely import and palm off upon purchasers Chinese "lie tea;" that they use the leaves of ash, plum, and other trees, and mingle them with good tea; and furthermore, that they redry and color genuine tea leaves that have been used, or have been damaged by water, &c. There is one of these companies which, we are told, does nothing else but purchase damaged cargoes or chests of tea, and then dries it on the roofs of certain buildings a thousand miles from where we are now sitting. The drying process having been completed, a small quantity of a superior article is added to the damaged in order to give flavor; and it is then done up in packages for distribution all over the country. Those who are accustomed to patronize these tea establishments would certainly do well to analyze and test the quality of the article which is dispensed to them.

The ragged schools of England are under the superintendence of young ladies, whose influence over the rough natures of the scholars is said to be unbounded. Lord Shaftsbury, in a recent address, stated that he had visited a ragged school in one of the worst parts of London, and in one room found thirty-five men listening to the teachings of a very handsome young woman, the daughter of a shopkeeper in the neighborhood. Lord Shaftsbury, expressing surprise that the teacher had no one to protect her from the anticipated insults of these rough men, the superintendent replied, that she was not afraid of their doing her any harm, since they loved her so much that they would lick the ground on which she walks; but, added Lord Shaftsbury, "I am afraid some person may step in, and, not being under authority, or knowing the manners of the place, may say something impertinent to her, and if he did, he would not leave the place alive."

In twenty-four State prisons in the United States there were in 1867 an aggregate of 10,835 prisoners. These cost the States the round sum of $1,366,982, and their earnings amounted to $1,092,080. The average cost, per head, of these prisoners was $177 a year, while their average earnings were $123 a head. The most economically managed prisons in the United States were those of Connecticut and Ohio, where the average cost was less than $129 a head. If all the prisons had been managed as economically, they would have yielded a net profit of over $100,000 to the States. More than one-fifth of all the prisoners in these State prisons were minors. Probably three-fourths of all the criminals in these prisons were more or less intemperate.

The self-exiled Southerners who left the country after the war because they thought they could not breathe the to them detested air in which the Star Spangled Banner floated are now anxious to get back, and in order to facilitate their return the Government of the United States, with a magnanimity almost unparalleled, has directed Admiral Davis to furnish free transportation, on a government vessel, to any citizens of the United States who may now be voluntary exiles in Brazil. To what a humiliation these hot headed sons of the South have thus subjected themselves. How much better to have remained upon their native soil and accepted the situation after Lee's surrender.

Test for Alcohol.—Alcohol dissolves chloroform, so that when a mixture of alcohol and water is shaken up with chloroform, the alcohol and chloroform unite, leaving the water separate. An instrument to test the adulteration of alcohol, based upon the above results, has recently been invented. It consists of a graduated glass tube into which a measured quantity of chloroform is poured, and to this is added a given quantity of the liquid to be tested; these are well mixed together and then left to subside; the chloroform takes up the alcohol and leaves the water, which being lighter than the chloroform will float on the top, and the quantity of water that has been mixed with the spirit will be at once seen.

The zinc mines of Sussex county, New Jersey, produce 25,000 tons of ore annually. It is manufactured into white oxide and spelter, yielding 7,000 tons of the oxide, and 530 tons of metallic zinc per annum. The whole product of white oxide in the United States is 10,000 tons, and these mines alone produce nearly as much as the yearly consumption of the country, leaving a considerable quantity for exportation. The manufacture of spelter is more recent in its introduction, and the supply is still short of the demand, the annual consumption being 8,000 tons, of which 5,700 tons are imported.

Africa is ahead of us in some respects. Consul Amos Perry says that female advocates are found in Tunis, whose distinct office is to manage the cases of women plaintiffs and defendants coming before the highest tribunal in the land, and also to plead the cause of condemned female criminals who are subjected to unreasonable sufferings in their cells. There are at Tunis three of these professional advocates, and all of them are able to make effective pleas in court. How long will it be before we shall have women lawyers, jurors, perhaps even judges, as well as women voters in this country?

It is hoped in Italy that France will recall her troops before the meeting of the Œcumenical Council at Rome. It would certainly be difficult to allow French soldiers to mount guard at the doors of an assembly which no doubt will spend most of its time in sanctioning a programme which is opposed to the French code of laws. But without the French, the Papal throne is unsafe. Victor Emmanuel is ready to send a detachment, but the moment an Italian regiment enters the Holy City, the temporal power is at an end. On the whole, we may expect to see the Imperial troops remain.

CROP CORRESPONDENCE.

Columbiana, Ohio.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

SUMMITVILLE, COL. CO., O., April 2, 1869.

The crops in this locality look first rate. Wheat looks better this spring than it has for the last three or four years. A great deal has been sown and the general impression is that there will be a large crop. Spring has been very backward here, hardly a day passing without some rain, which is generally succeeded by a slight sprinkling of snow. The consequence is the farmers have hardly yet commenced operations of any kind. But a few dry days will soon remedy this, when we hope to see them tilling the soil, and ultimately realizing their most sanguine expectations.

J. B. M.

The Fort Wayne Gazette says: "We are informed by a friend from Jalapa, Grant county, that more acres of wheat had been sown in that vicinity than for several preceding years, and that the prospects are good for an abundant crop. The farmers say that if present prospects are a true criterion, there will not be barns enough in which to store the grain raised this year in the Mississinewa Valley. Apples and peaches as yet have not been injured by the cold weather and a good yield is anticipated. The weather has been favorable for maple sugar making, and it has been eagerly improved. The Miami Indians who own land near Jalapa, have made an amount of sugar, and of better quality than the whites."

Southern Illinois (Egypt) is rejoicing over the prospects of the coming wheat and peach crops. They are both very flattering. Wheat never looked better in March than it did this year. Every farmer expects a fine yielding wheat crop, this season, from the present prospects. Peaches have been killed some, but there will be plenty.

The friends of Greece in Europe encourage the belief that the Great Powers by their last Conference proclaimed at least their renunciation of all interest and ambition in the settlement of affairs in the East, and that Turkey is now left to settle with her Christian subjects as best she can. Year by year the Ottoman government sinks into debt, and her Mahomedan system becomes increasingly odious. No one regards the present state of things as permanent.

Good Cake.—Two eggs, two pieces of butter the size of an egg, two teacups of milk or cream, two cups of sugar, two pints of flour, two teaspoonfuls of cream tartar to be mixed in the flour, and one teaspoonful of soda mixed in a little of the milk and put in after the cake is made; essence of lemon to suit the taste. To be well beaten and baked in a quick oven.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, April 5, 1869.

The local money market assumed an easier tone to-day and there was considerable activity in the discount business. Our banks are shaping their affairs so as to afford the most liberal accommodations to their customers consistent with their relations to the demand of the Comptroller of the Currency, who may at any time call for a statement of their condition on any past day he may designate.

—Government bonds opened strong this morning, but prices receded somewhat during the day. Jay Cooke & Co., in their letter received by Messrs. McVay & Co., say that "the announcement of anticipation of the May coupons at the Sub-Treasury has had a favorable effect upon both money and Governments. Sterling Exchange is much firmer, 109½. Gold has receded to 131¾.

"We have good investment demand for Governments. Out of town houses are bidding. The foreign houses are buyers. The decline of the past few days has been recovered and the market closes very strong at quotations, with little stock offering."

Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co. report the following quotations of government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

—The general stock market exhibited great strength and buoyancy to-day, and the whole list shows an upward movement. Among the miscellaneous Wells, Fargo Express and Western Union Telegraph are the most active. The latter is expected shortly to reach [illegible]. Pacific Mail [illegible] shows great firmness. The stock has been in demand from strong houses upon the large increase in the business of the Company. The steamer that sailed last Friday had over 1,200 tons of freight and 900 passengers, and the steamer which left San Francisco on the 30th ult. had a large freight and 500 passengers. This is largely in excess of the business of the Company in years past, at this season of the year. St. Paul stocks were strong and improved in prices. Northwestern shares were strong, upon the report of the earnings for March, which show an increase of 25 per cent. over the corresponding month of last year. The foreign demand for the stock continues. About $4,000,000 of the preferred stock has been taken for shipment, and some purchases of common stock are reported for the same account.

—The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo Building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway stocks, Gold, etc. at the various sessions of the New York Boards during the day:

Sales and Re-Sales of Petroleum Free on Cars in the Oil Region. April 3, 1869.

1,000 bbls at Titusville from Pleasantville, at ... $5 65

200 bbls at Miller, on p. t.

Referring to Saturday's market the Titusville Herald says: The creek was extremely quiet to-day, and the transactions were limited to two lots aggregating 1,500 bbls. There was, however, a fair demand all day at about previous prices, the inquiry having been good at from $5 65 to $5 75 at points along the creek, and at Pleasantville at $5 75 at the wells in the northern part of the district. At Oil City there was nothing done. A fair nominal quotation for round lots on broad gauge cars at that point was $6 [illegible]. The quiet condition of the market is attributed mostly to a decline in New York in the afternoon, which was taken as evidence that the "bear" movement which was expected for a week past, had been inaugurated. At the close there was a good demand at Titusville and Pleasantville at the prices indicated above, but there were no sellers at them.

PHILADELPHIA.

The receipts during the past week were of crude 2,475 bbls, and of refined 8,750 bbls.

The stock of petroleum on Friday last was as follows:

Point Breeze	bbls.	10,305
Greenwich point	"	11,060
Gibson's Point	"	5,300
Total	bbls.	[illegible]

Stock of petroleum in warehouses March 31, 1869:

	Refined.	Crude.	Benzine.
Atlantic Stores	bbls. [illegible]	250	2,811
Empire Stores	" [illegible]
Greenwich Point	" [illegible]		[illegible]
Gibson's Point	" [illegible]
West Philadelphia	" [illegible]	1,500	[illegible]
Total	bbls. [illegible]	1,750	[illegible]

The exports for the week past were 22,411 gallons refined. Total exports since January 1, 1869, [illegible] gallons, against [illegible] gallons same time in 1868. Fourteen vessels are now chartered and loading with petroleum for foreign ports.

IRON.

IRONTON, OHIO.

The Register reports a situation attained in the iron affairs of that city never before experienced in the history of the place—and that is the inadequate supply of metal for the use of their local manufactories. The strength of the demand from abroad has been such as to take up, not only the current production, but that for some time ahead, so that with great difficulty can a person successfully negotiate an order on the bank. Buyers from a distance have been here the past week trying to buy a thousand or two tons, to be delivered along through the year.

Rates are firm. We quote:

Foundry, No. 1 H. B.	[illegible]
Foundry, No. 2 H. B.	[illegible]
Mill	[illegible]
Cold Blast	[illegible]

The wet weather for some time past has offered obstructions to burning ores perfectly, so that some of the furnaces are meeting with difficulty in smelting. The roads to the furnaces continue in a dreadful condition. What little stocks are on hand cannot be brought to the railroad. Buckhorn furnace was turned over to the Charcoal Iron Company last Monday. Mr. Nevins manages.

NEW YORK.

The market is quiet as usual at this season of the year, says the Iron Age, and the sales are not important. There is a good deal of inquiry, and some large buyers are holding off, being reluctant to pay the advanced rates for pig. The Eastern States are more behind in entering the market than other sections, although many of the most important buyers have already contracted for their iron.

Very little No. 1 American pig iron is offering. Some of the Lehigh furnaces are out of market, and others are offering at the advanced rates, $40@42. Very little first class iron is offering at as low as $40 for No. 1, though some brands called No. 1 can be readily obtained at this figure. The lower grades of iron are more abundant, but the transactions are not large. We are given a sale of 1,250 tons Grey Forge, on private terms; 200 tons carbonized iron on private terms, also. The offerings of White and Mottled are large, and at a wide range of prices as to quality, &c.

Scotch pig, in sympathy with the general tone of the market, is quiet, but transactions are very much limited by the extremely small stock, which hardly deserves the name. The receipts during the week have been trifling. All the iron here is held at full prices, and importers readily dispose of it from ship. If any weakness should be experienced in the market, rather than make any concession they would probably store it, as the usual stock would be no burden to them. On the other side prices are a trifle lower, but this decline is more than made up for by the advance in freights, of about 5s. The latest quotation for Glengarnock, from Liverpool, is [illegible]. The freight from Glasgow, by steamer, is [illegible]. The sales here are unimportant. Glengarnock is held at $43, from yard; the sales are 100 tons at $42 62½, and 50 tons at $42, to arrive. Of Gartsherrie there is none here; the last sale from yard was made at $45. Coltness is also exhausted, but several parcels are on the way, which are offered at $41 gold. Eglinton is in very small stock, held at [illegible].

Bar iron remains as noted one week ago, low figures prevailing, and a limited demand. From store the sales are small, though the reduction reported one week ago has induced some trade.

ENGLAND.

Late advices report the same general tone as for months past. An unsatisfactory business is reported in almost all branches except rails, which are in good demand at full prices. The finished iron trade in Cleveland presents new features of novelty. The rail mills are well occupied, but the demand for bars is unsatisfactory, though things are looking a shade better. Plate mills are fairly employed, but prices are not remunerative. On Tuesday at the Middlesbrough meeting, the trade was reported tolerably satisfactory.

In Staffordshire the iron trade shows no marked improvement. The meeting of the trade in this town and at Wolverhampton afford no basis for observation, as usual, at this advanced period of the quarter. Some members of the trade profess to tell of a little better demand in one or two departments, and if anything there is perhaps rather more doing at the wire mills, but this remark does not apply to the general run of manufactured iron produced in this district. No alteration, says Ryland's Circular, in the price of iron or the rate of wages is likely to be made at the forthcoming preliminary meeting of the Ironmasters' Association; and as quarter-day approaches this opinion receives confirmation from those who are best able to judge of the exigencies of the market and probable future of the trade. There is no reduction in pigs. Although the consumption of pig iron is undoubtedly much smaller than usual, the make, too, has been limited to a similar extent.

There are still great complaints in Liverpool of the limited character of the business which is passing in metals, the orders for manufactured iron coming in from the different foreign markets, and for small quantities, indicating a continuance of the hand-to-mouth policy which has prevailed for so long. So soon as this condition of things can be changed we may look for considerable improvement, but not before.

SUGAR TRADE.

NEW YORK.

The demand for raw continues limited, and with receipts considerably in excess of sales, the market is heavy, and prices still recede. The stock is pretty rapidly accumulating, and is now larger than before at a like period for several years. Holders, however, do not urge their goods, and in most instances store promptly rather than make further concessions. Refiners, with a falling market for their product, buy very sparingly, and the business has been chiefly in the better grades, suitable to the wants of the trade. The Shipping List, of Saturday last, again reduces quotations [illegible] ⅌ lb, the market closing heavily at [illegible] for fair to good refining Cuba, and [illegible] for No. 12 box; these figures, however, are in the absence of demand, rather nominal than otherwise. Refined sugars are unsettled and lower, prices having further dropped since Tuesday last [illegible] ⅌ lb; at these more favorable rates there was a little more business on Friday, but no general activity, the stringency in financial circles keeping buyers, in a great measure, aloof; we quote hard, [illegible]; soft white [illegible]; extra C [illegible]; and yellow [illegible]. Messrs. R. L. & A. Stuart have reduced their prices of hard ⅛c, and soft ¼c ⅌ lb. The sales of raw are 2,411 hhds Cuba, including about 850 hhds sold, before arrival at [illegible]; 150 do clarified do [illegible]; 100 do Porto Rico [illegible]; 35 do Barbadoes [illegible]; 70 do clarified Demerara [illegible]; and 714 boxes Havana [illegible], 4 mos. By auction, 150 hhds New Orleans sold at [illegible], cash.

NEW YORK, April 5—P. M.

MONEY.

The demand was urgent from bankers, and most of the banks were either close on the legal rate or below that point. The closing rates were 7 ⅌ cent. gold and 1-16 ⅌ cent. commission, or 7 ⅌ cent. currency and ⅛ ⅌ cent. commission.

STERLING.

Firm; prime bankers' bills are generally held above the market, and are quoted at [illegible] for 60 days, and [illegible] for sight. These quotations are mostly nominal.

GOLD.

Dull; opened at 131[illegible], advanced to 131[illegible], fell to 131[illegible], and closed at 131[illegible]. The rates paid for carrying were 5, 6, 7, 7, and 1-32 ⅌ cent to flat. Gross clearances $30,000,000.

GOVERNMENTS.

Strong under higher prices from London and liberal purchases on both foreign and home account. Later, to influence prices, a number of small loans were called in, and the market was hammered by offerings of currency in, and with small sales yielded to the following quotations, at which no large amount of gold bonds can be purchased: Coupons, '81, [illegible]; do '62, [illegible]; do '64, [illegible]; do '65, [illegible]; do new, [illegible]; do '67, [illegible]; do '68, [illegible]; 10-40s, [illegible].

STATE BONDS.

Dull; Missouris [illegible]; old Tennessees [illegible]; new Tennessees [illegible]; North Carolinas [illegible].

THE STOCK MARKET

Was generally strong to-day and quite buoyant under the money pressure. The speculative interest was chiefly in New York Central, Fort Wayne, Pacific Mail, Rock Island and Mariposa, the advance in which was most marked, though the market was all higher in sympathy at the close, and continued active and strong. The turn in exchanges at Chicago and New Orleans which returns currency, exercises a favorable influence.

Flour and Grain at Milwaukee.

From the circular of Oliver & Hart, we learn that the advance in wheat, noticed one week ago, continued until Wednesday, 31st ult., No. 1 selling at $1 25 cash, and No. 2 at $1 10¾. Since then the market has ruled dull, closing Friday noon at $1 07 for No. 2, and $1 11 for No 1, regular. The stock is too large for local operators, and the absence of eastern orders, combined with a close money market, prevents the usual influence of speculators, who have been anticipating advanced values on the near approach to the opening of navigation. We still think that at a slightly nearer approach to $1 00 for No. 2 that eastern buyers will take hold freely. Our city mills are now drawing more freely from the elevators, using about 10,000 bushels per day, which, with shipments, which are small, (because of inability to secure bulk cars) our stock has not only not increased but shows a reduction from last week. We were Thursday visited by one of the most severe snow storms of the past winter, and we expect receipts will be small in consequence. The ice has broken up in the Mississippi as far north as Lake Pepin, and we may soon expect to receive wheat from river points, where there has been large quantities stored during the past winter. We hear that the ice in the Straits is still fine and thick, with prospects of no earlier opening than last year. Although planting was well under way last year at this time it was checked during April by unseasonable weather, and should the present month be favorable from this time forward, our crop will be planted nearly as early as last year. Receipts for the week 50,164 bush, against 106,140 bush same time in 1868. Shipments 11,814 bush against 39,390 bush same time in 1868. Stock in store 1,023,000 bush, against 1,126,000 bush in 1868.

Flour has been in full sympathy with wheat and is a trifle weaker. We quote city's at [illegible]; Minnesotas, $5 75@6; choice extras, [illegible]; extras, [illegible]; supers, [illegible]. Railway freights remain as before.

THE Colossal will have dispatch for Fort Benton and the goldregions of Montana.

THE steamer Galatea has been raised, and arrived at St. Louis on Friday.

THE steamer Belle Vernon passed Memphis on Saturday en route for Pittsburgh.

THE steamers Messenger, Captain Dean, and Glasgow, Captain Robinson, left Quincy for St. Paul on Friday.

ANOTHER CHANGE.—Captain James Kerr, an old Pittsburgher, has taken charge of the office of the steamer Great Republic.

THE new and magnificent packet Minneapolis will commence receiving for St. Paul during the present week.

THE only mountain steamers now loading are the Colossal, Captain M. A. Cox and the Nick Wall, Captain Thomas Poe.

THE steamer Arkansas, Captain Shaw, has arrived at St. Louis. She will load for Fort Benton.

THE wharfmaster at Evansville is planting locust posts, with ring-bolts attached, on the levee, for the convenience of steamers.

CAPT. THOS. ROGERS has taken charge of the steamer Commonwealth, running from St. Louis to New Orleans.

THE steamer Glendale, Captain Hare, arrived at St. Louis on Friday. She was announced to return to Pittsburgh on Monday.

THE steamer Andy Ackley, Captain Vanhook, left St. Louis on Friday for Fort Benton. The sidewheeler Silver Bow was to leave on Monday.

THE powerful towboat Wild Duck and barges, in charge of Captain J. W. Anawalt, will positively take their departure for St. Louis on Tuesday at 12 M. Shippers can rely on this.

THE keel is laid, and most of the frame is up, of the new United States Mail Line steamer now being built by James Howard & Co., at Jeffersonville. The boat will be completed in sixty days.

THE steamer St. Marys, an excellent sidewheeler, in charge of Captain T. C. Sweeney is the regular Tuesday packet. The first clerk is Mr. Morris Dorsey, a gentlemanly and attentive officer.

CAPT. D. Y. SMITHERS'S new boat was to be launched from Eberman & Co's ship yard, California, on Saturday. Length 140 feet, beam 28 feet, hold 4½ feet. She is intended for the Kanawha trade.

THE new and splendid mountain packet Nick Wall, Captain Thomas Poe, leaves for Missouri river and Fort Benton on Tuesday. This boat was built especially for the trade, and offers superior advantages to passengers and shippers.

THE new and magnificent sidewheel passenger steamer Minneapolis, Capt. T. B. Rhodes, is announced to leave this port on Saturday, April 10, for St. Louis, Galena, Dubuque and St. Paul. The present is a fine opportunity for passengers going West, as this boat will positively go through without reshipping.

THE ferry-boat purchased by the Manchester and Saw Mill Run Company arrived yesterday in charge of Captain Wm. Claney. She brought up 218 bales of hay and 20,000 feet of lumber. She will commence running as soon as her freight is discharged.

THE case of the owners of the St. Cloud and one of the Cincinnati insurance companies, after considerable litigation, in which the owners of the boat have twice had judgment rendered in their favor, has at last been settled by compromise, the companies interested agreeing to pay $11,000.

THE punctual packet Julia No. 2, Captain Wm. Coulson, takes her departure this day at 4 P. M., for Wheeling, Marietta and Parkersburg. This boat is well found in every respect, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Mr. W. J. Johnson, who presides in the office, will see that passengers have the best of attention.

BOATS SWAMPED.—Saturday's Louisville Courier says: There was quite a blow on the river on Thursday night. The towboat Lake Erie was caught in it near Carrollton, and one boat and one barge of her tow were swamped. They were loaded with coal belonging to Horner, Woods & Co.

NEW BOAT.—Capt. E. B. Trinidad has contracted with Messrs. Eberman & Co., of California, for a steamer of the following dimensions: Length 120 feet, beam 26 feet, hold 3½ feet. The boat is to be launched in eighteen working days from the time the contract was made. Pretty fast work that.

THE fine packet Kate Putnam, Capt. George W. Reed, will positively leave for Louisville and Nashville on this day. This boat has the best of accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Mr. Harbison, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers are well cared for.

THE splendid sidewheel packet St. Marys, Captain Sweeney, takes her departure to-day at 12 M., for Cincinnati and all intermediate ports. This boat is in fine order for passengers, and is well found in every respect. The first clerk is Mr. Morris Dorsey, one of the most gentlemanly and attentive officers to be found.

A FLOATING hotel is to be opened on the Hudson river. A steamboat is to be towed to Pollipell's Island, in Newburg Bay, near Cornwall, where she will be permanently anchored. She will be thoroughly overhauled and repaired, refurnished and repainted, and so altered as to convert her into a first class summer boarding house.

TOWBOAT SOLD.—The towboat Little Jim Rees was sold yesterday to the Grand Tower Coal Company, of St. Louis, for $8,500. This company is located twelve miles below St. Louis. She will be placed on the ways and fitted up handsomely before taking her departure for St. Louis.

The steamer Bermuda will be sold at Marshal's sale on the 10th at Memphis.

IT will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that the fine side wheel steamer Robert Burns, Capt. F. Maratta, is announced for St. Louis and Missouri river. This boat is one of the best of her class, and in charge of Captain Maratta cannot fail to prove a success. Passengers and shippers will no doubt be pleased to learn that Capt. J. H. Dunlap has charge of the office. The Captain has hosts of friends and deserves them all.

THE St. Louis Democrat says: The weather has been cold and stormy since Thursday evening. The river has steadily continued on the rise, with a good stage of water in every direction. In the Upper Mississippi there is eight feet to Keokuk, and probably six feet through to St. Paul, with the solid ice-bound Lake Pepin intervening. The Missouri and Illinois continue in good boating stage.

ACCIDENT TO CAPT. SHAW.—We were pained to learn on the arrival of the Arkansas that when the boat was twelve miles below Pine Bluff, her commander, Capt. Shaw, met with a serious accident. He slipped near the bottom of the front stair, and striking an upright spar, his knee pan was broken. The accident of course has kept him in bed ever since. In a few days he will start for his home in Pittsburgh, accompanied by his daughter. The fracture is slowly healing. Capt. A. C. McConnell will no doubt be in command of the Arkansas while on her Benton trip.

HARD ON THE DEXTER.—The steamer Dexter has been laid up, and turned over at New Albany to her creditors, Messrs. Bragdon, Ford and others having her in charge. During her career she has not made money, though well managed, and a good boat, which indicates the real hard times among the boatmen as well as the necessity of concert of action and sustaining equitable rates of freight. She is, we believe, to be sold.

VICKSBURG.—The Times of Thursday says: During the wind storm yesterday afternoon sixteen or eighteen coal flats and tows belonging to Messrs. Mattingly, Flowerree & Co., and lying opposite the city, broke from their moorings and floated down the river some distance before they could be secured, one, in the meantime, having gone down with 12,000 bush coal.

The Rubicon, returning up, when just around the bend, about three miles above the city, broke a T head and cracked a cylinder, necessitating her to proceed on one wheel. She was lying at the scene of the accident at dark, probably waiting for the high wind to lay to.

HO FOR THE IDAHO GOLD MINES.—The new mountain packet Colossal, Capt. M. A. Cox, takes her departure this day positively for St. Louis, Omaha and Fort Benton. As this boat has attracted considerable attention the following particulars will be found interesting. The hull was built by Wm. Latta, at Elizabeth, length 186 feet, beam 35 feet, hold 4½ feet. The hull is extra fastened and timbered. In addition to her fore and aft bulkheads, she has eleven cross bulkheads, all water tight; together with her extra strength, it makes it next to impossible to sink her. This of course will be of great advantage to the underwriters. It is the opinion of many steamboatmen that she will be safer than a sidewheel boat without the cross bulkheads. Engines by J. N. Snowden. Cylinders 16½ inches, with 5½ feet stroke, containing all the latest and best improvements. She is furnished with 3 boilers, 38 inches in diameter, 24 feet long. The cabin is roomy, neat and very convenient; built by Bunting & Miller, painting by Boggs, upholstering by Edmundson & Co., cabin outfit by Messrs. Evans, Gilmore & Dallas. The Colossal was built under the superintendence of Capts. Adam Jacobs and M. A. Cox. In her construction no expense has been spared in order to make her one of the safest and best adapted boats ever constructed for the mountain trade. Capt. Cox is an officer of large experience and pleasing address. He understands his duty in all its various departments. What the Captain don't know about steamboating is not worth inquiring about. Shippers are requested to have their bills of lading ready by 12 M.

PASSING AWAY.—Saturday's Cincinnati Commercial says: It is our painful duty to announce the death of Capt. Joe Scott, who expired at his residence at Covington, Ky., yesterday morning, after a brief illness, of congestion of the lungs, in his 65th year. The deceased was long identified with the river interest, and was engaged in mercantile pursuits in this city for several years. He was an old Pittsburgh, St. Louis and New Orleans pilot, and commenced on the river over forty years ago, during which time he commanded a fleet of boats, including the Reliance, Winchester, Fort Wayne, Moro Castle, Landis, Queen of the West, Prima Donna and Swallow. The latter was the last steamer he commanded. He was taken prisoner on the Cumberland river, when the Prima Donna was captured by the rebels, undergoing exposure and fatigues during his imprisonment, to which is attributed the origin of his fatal disease. He was an energetic, honorable and correct man, and leaves a large family and many friends to mourn his loss. The colors of the steamers in port will be displayed at half-mast to-day in respect to the memory of the deceased.

CITY MATTERS.

HOME FOR DESTITUTE WOMEN.

First Annual Meeting—History of the Institution—Number and Character of Inmates, &c.

The first annual meeting of the Home for Destitute Women was held on the 1st instant, at the Home, on Chatham street. As required by the charter, the annual report was presented and adopted, and Managers elected to serve for the year. A large number of ladies were present, and all were greatly encouraged by the results already accomplished. We give below the report for the year, commending it to the attention of every reader. Indeed, the Institution cannot fail to command the sympathies of the community:

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PITTSBURGH HOME FOR DESTITUTE WOMEN, APRIL 1st, 1869.

During the winter of 1868, at the weekly meetings of the managers of the Women's Christian Association, facts of the most startling nature were constantly brought before them by the visitors, which seemed to demand that immediate measures should be taken for the establishment of a refuge for distressed and unfortunate women. Cases were reported of young women of unblemished character, induced by reports of high wages given in the city and ignorant of the difficulties before them, who had come to seek employment, finding themselves at the approach of night without home or friends and unable to gain admission to a reputable lodging place. During the intensely cold weather of January—some such were compelled to ask permission of the Mayor of Allegheny to spend the night in the lock-up, to be sent next day to the county jail as the only place of refuge open to them until the inclement weather had passed. Other cases which excited deep commiseration were those of erring women who earnestly desired to abandon the paths of vice, but were surrounded by circumstances which seemed to render the first step to reformation well nigh impossible. Others were found in the prisons, sentenced for some first crime, sincerely repentant and full of earnest resolves on good conduct in the future, yet doomed by a prison reputation to sink to the lowest depths of infamy, unless some temporary home could be given on their release and some kindly hand extended to aid and guide them in the effort to retrieve the past in a better life. The managers resolved unanimously to procure a small house and fit it up as a temporary refuge for any woman in distress.

THE BUILDING.

After much anxious but fruitless effort to rent a building suitable for our purpose, it was decided best to purchase one. The brick dwelling, No. 65 Chatham street, containing ten rooms, was offered for the sum of $7,000, and accepted, one thousand to be paid down, and the balance in three annual payments, and of this we took possession on the 1st day of April, 1868. The premises were much out of repair, but every one to whom we applied for assistance gave it so cheerfully and heartily that we soon had the satisfaction of seeing the wood work repaired and painted, the walls newly papered, the front windows filled with enameled glass and others repaired, stoves freely given and set up, and the yard graded and paved with brick.

A matron had already been engaged and the work of furnishing the house commenced. The managers were cheered in their work by the daily gifts of beds, bedsteads, comforts, chairs, tables and furniture for every part of the house, and by the generous response of the merchants to our appeal for food, clothing and fuel. The names of many of the donors cannot appear in the list for the reason that their gifts were sent anonymously, but all were valuable, and for the first six months very few articles were required to be purchased.

A charter was promptly granted by the Legislature of the State, conveying all the power needed for the proper management of the institution and its inmates, and exempting the property from taxation. The city authorities also kindly remitted the water tax. An insurance of $2,500 has been taken upon the building. The Home was opened for the reception of women needing its shelter—not only the merely unfortunate and distressed, but also the criminal and fallen who desired to reform—the intention being to separate them as far as circumstances would permit, and always at night.

MANAGEMENT OF THE INMATES.

The Board of Managers felt from the first that the difficult part of their duty would be to control the undisciplined fallen, and guide them into the paths of morality and virtue. It was an entirely new work to all, and they shrunk from it, not from any doubt as to the duty, but from a sense of their own insufficiency for its performance. But they felt that the Savior had set them an example in the kind and loving words he spoke to the woman in the Temple, to the woman at the well of Samaria, and to Mary Magdalene. Looking to Him, then, as their great Example, their strength in weakness, their Almighty Helper, they took courage and entered upon their labors with many prayers. Their prayers for guidance seemed remarkably answered in the visit of Miss Goulden, matron of the "Temporary Asylum for discharged female prisoners," at Dedham, near Boston. Miss Goulden had been, for three years, the ruling spirit at Dedham, and to her judicious christian control its managers attribute much of the success of that institution. From her we gained valuable information, and her advice and assistance greatly aided in framing judicious rules for ourselves, as well as for the Home and those we desired to benefit. A year's experience has impressed upon us the advantage of a right beginning.

The Home is in charge of a Matron and an assistant, directed by the Board of Managers, two of whom are appointed to visit during each month. They are required to be at the house not less than twice each week, and oftener, if possible. It is the duty of the Matron to instruct the inmates in all kinds of domestic labor, so as the better to fit them for earning an honest living. All who are not prevented by sickness are required to work, and for their encouragement half the proceeds of their labor is given to them. The Matron is also directed to teach them to read and write.

Religious services are conducted every Sunday afternoon, in the house, by clergymen of the city. A prayer meeting is held every Tuesday afternoon by the managers, and the duties of each day are begun and closed with family prayer.

A meeting for Bible instruction has been held weekly until last month, when the excellent teacher was obliged to give it up, but another has now taken her place.

THE NUMBER OF INMATES.

The number of persons received during the year was 121, two of whom were colored. Of these 79 were cases of distress and destitution, not criminal; 36 came from the county prison; 3 from the penitentiary; 36 had led abandoned lives; 25 were intemperate; 27 were Roman Catholics; 43 claimed to have received good instruction in youth; 6 attributed their fall to misfortune; 5 were sent to the Homœopathic Hospital, 11 to the Poor Farm, 2 children to the Home for the Friendless, 1 to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, and 1 to the Mercy Hospital. Twenty-three children were received in all.

Number of persons sent to their friends, 7. Number of persons received temporary shelter, 6. Number of persons received temporary service in families, 22. Number of persons dismissed, being unprofitable, 7. Number of persons left of their own accord, 25. Number of physicians visits, 30.

Eleven of the erring who have been under our care have reformed and are doing well thus far.

THE FAIR.

In December of last year, a Fair in aid of the Home was held in City Hall, which was generously patronized. Its proceeds enabled the managers to anticipate the final payment and secure a deed for the house. The balance of the Fair funds, amounting to $5,000, is invested to aid in meeting the current expenses.

THANKS.

The law business of the Home has been transacted by Mr. J. H. Baldwin, and Dr. John Wishart has been the medical attendant. For the gratuitous services of these gentlemen the Board tender their thanks, as well as to the many other friends of the institution, for whose sympathy and generosity we have so much reason to be grateful.

CONCLUSION.

In reviewing the events of the year, the Board feel that the good which has been accomplished far more than compensates for the labor and discouragements encountered. All who have engaged faithfully in the work feel this, and we enter upon a new year in prayerful confidence and hope, assured that the Divine blessing will follow, and in due time we shall "reap if we faint not."

In behalf of the Board of Managers,
M. H. BRUNOT, President.

The East End Gas Company—Bill Signed.

A telegraphic dispatch was received in this city yesterday, announcing that Governor Geary had signed the act incorporating the East End Gas Company. This will be welcome news, not only to the corporators, but to a large number of residents and property holders in the new wards, who look to this company for a supply of gas at a day not very far distant. The act, it will be remembered, was approved by Councils, and its passage recommended by them. The Governor, we understand, hesitated to sign it, upon representations made to the effect that its approval would interfere with the corporate rights of another company chartered some years ago. This difficulty has been overcome, and the bill is now a law. The new company will organize as speedily as possible, and proceed to carry out the contemplated improvements.

THE BEDOUIN ARABS.—The Bedouin Arabs, now performing at Smythe's American Theater, arrived in the city on Sunday, and put up at the St. Clair Hotel. Yesterday afternoon, in company with Manager Smythe, they visited the Pittsburgh Gymnasium, on Fourth avenue, where one of the party entered on the register the names of the entire troupe—fourteen in number—in Arabic writing. The writing looks very curious compared with the English writing, and the manner in which it was done created considerable merriment among those present. The troupe also visited the Fire Alarm Telegraph and Mayor's office, and as some of them could talk English pretty well they appeared to enjoy the visit very much.

UNPROVOKED ASSAULT.—William H. Dickson made information before Mayor Brush yesterday, charging Charles S. Kline with disorderly conduct. Mr. Dickson alleged that the accused had abused his brother, a small boy, by kicking him, without cause or provocation. Kline was arrested, and after a hearing, fined five dollars and costs.

HORSES RECOVERED.—The horses stolen from James McRoberts, at Harmarville, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, last Friday night, were recovered at a Gypsies encampment at East Liberty. The Gypsies had purchased them for [illegible].

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Criminal Court—Judge Stowe.

The following business was transacted in this Court yesterday:

John Kurtz was tried on an indictment for larceny, Siegfried Seifert prosecutor. The offense was alleged to have been committed in the Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, in December last, when, it was alleged, the defendant stole two bottles of wine. The jury found a verdict of not guilty.

Mary Hague, who keeps a saloon in the Eighth ward, plead guilty to selling liquor on Sunday, and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and a fine of fifty dollars.

Richard Fear was arraigned on an indictment for aggravated assault and battery, Richard Lafferty prosecutor. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, the costs to be divided between the parties.

James Thackery, indicted for malicious mischief, M. W. Canning, of the Opera House, and W. C. Smythe, of the American Theater, prosecutors, was placed on trial. It is alleged that the defendant wilfully and maliciously tore down and defaced the bills of the places of amusement managed by the prosecutors. There were two indictments and the jury found a verdict of guilty as to both.

Henry Steiner was tried for the larceny of two hundred and fifty dollars from his brother who resides in East Birmingham. The jury found a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Martin Rice was placed on trial on two indictments for selling liquor on Sunday, John Enright prosecutor. The offence was alleged to have been committed in "Limerick" several weeks ago. The jury had not rendered a verdict at the hour of adjournment.

Court of Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

The first case taken up yesterday was that of J. N. Weeks vs. Wm. S. Taylor. Action on book account. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $281 79.

John W. Robb vs. Thos. Hulings. Action to recover for work and labor done. Verdict for plaintiff for $93 62.

Alexander McClintock vs. W. D. Hamilton & Co. Action on book account. Verdict for plaintiff for $253 87.

Michael Thicken vs. W. R. Brockett. Action on a promissory note. Verdict for the plaintiff for $334.

Edward Bous vs. S. Weilbroner & Co. Action to recover for work and labor done. Verdict for the defendant.

The Bates and Bell Robbery—Goldstein Committed for Trial.

Henry Goldstein, arrested by the Mayor's police on Saturday last, on an information charging him with receiving some of the goods stolen from the establishment of Bates & Bell, on Fifth avenue, on the 18th of March, had a hearing before Mayor Brush, yesterday afternoon, and in default of bail in the sum of $3,000 was committed for trial. James Tartz, at present in jail for being one of the robbers, and on whose information Goldstein was arrested, was taken out of jail and required to give evidence before His Honor. Tartz stated that Goldstein had planned the robbery, and showed him and his companions how to enter the building, and that he (Tartz) had given him some of the plunder, among other things two of the shawls. It was also stated, but it was not in evidence, that Goldstein had sold the shawls to a woman who is known, and who we were afterward informed, will be produced on the trial of the cause at Court. Officers Jones, Ruch and Long, of the Mayor's police, have been engaged on the case for some day's past, and with the assistance of Chief Butler, succeeded in accumulating enough evidence to hold Goldstein, although his attorney, John C. McCarthy, Esq., made every possible effort to defeat the charge. We are informed that Tartz is willing to disclose the place of concealment of something like $5,000 worth of silks, &c., providing he is set free. He says the silks were not stolen in this city, but in a neighboring city and brought here. We do not know how far his statement is truthful, but we do know this, that not long since a robbery of silks occurred in an adjoining city, which, if it does not reach $5,000, will not fall far below it. Some of our most expert detectives are engaged on the case, and it may be that the goods will be ferreted out without the aid of Tartz.

Distilled Spirits in Bonded Warehouses—Important Decision.

Section 26 of the act of July 20, 1868, provides "that all distilled spirits in any bonded warehouse shall, within nine months after the passage of this act, be withdrawn from such warehouse, and the taxes paid on the same; and the casks or packages containing said spirits shall be marked and stamped and be subject to the same requirements as if manufactured after the passage of this act."

Mr. Charles Abel, Collector of the First District of Pennsylvania, recently addressed a note to Commissioner Delano, as follows: "As there are about one million gallons spirits now in the Penn bonded warehouse, the withdrawal of which will consume considerable time, I very respectfully ask whether I am authorized to receive applications for withdrawal until the 20th of April next, or whether all the spirits must be actually withdrawn by that time."

Thomas Harland, Deputy Commissioner, replied as follows: "I refer you to section of the Act of July 20, 1868, which provides distinctly that any distilled spirits remaining in any bonded warehouse for a period of more than nine months after the passage of this act, shall be forfeited to the United States, etc. Therefore, if there are any spirits left in the Penn bonded warehouse on the 20th of April, they will be forfeited to the United States."

From the above decision it will be seen that "applications for withdrawal" will not be sufficient, and that all spirits not actually removed on or before the 20th instant will be forfeited.

Scotchmen Victimized.

Two Scotchmen were victimized by a couple of sharpers on Smithfield street yesterday. The Scotchmen had only recently arrived in this country and were approached by sharper No. 1 who pretended to be a contractor, and offered them work. No. 2 soon came up and by the usual game the Scotchmen were swindled out of twelve one pound notes on a Glasgow bank, amounting to about sixty dollars in gold. Detectives Irwin and Herron were informed of the matter and traced the confidence men to a banking house where they had tried to get the money exchanged, but were unable to get any further clue to them. The rascals had left the bank about five minutes before the officers arrived.

FINED FOR ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.—Two boys named Jeremiah Carroll and William Bracken, Jr., were arrested by the Mayor's police on Sunday in a beastly state of intoxication. They were locked up, and on Monday morning after being questioned in regard to where they procured their liquor and severely reprimanded were discharged. The Mayor then ordered an information to be drawn up against the tavern keeper, whose name is Collins, for selling liquor on Sunday, and a warrant for his arrest was issued. Mayor Brush fined him fifty dollars and costs which he paid over and was released.

A SINGULAR CASE.—An elderly lady who said she was fifty-six years old, but looked as though she might be much older for she was bald headed with the exception of a few locks which were gray, and her face was furrowed with many wrinkles, came to Alderman McMaster's office, yesterday, and wished to make an information against a young man about eighteen years of age, whom she alleged followed her about the streets and continually importuned her to marry him, and on her refusal, had threatened to take her life with a revolver. The Alderman declined to take the information, and at this the old lady shed tears.

J. MERCER LANGSTON TO-NIGHT.—At the Academy of Music this evening, John M. Langston, Esq., Professor of Law in the Howard University, Washington City, will deliver his lecture entitled, "Thaddeus Stevens, the Great Commoner." Those who heard Mr. Langston in the Third Presbyterian Church, last fall, will not need to be told that he is an eloquent speaker, and those who did not hear him may rest assured he will entertain them very much if they go to the Academy this evening. Tickets for sale at Minor's book store and Mellor's music store.

WORK COMMENCED.—The work of demolishing the buildings on the east side of Wood street, from Fourth avenue to the large iron front building of B. L. Fahnestock & Co., was commenced yesterday under the supervision of Mr. Ford, contractor. Elegant large buildings, of which we have spoken in a previous issue, will be erected on the lots, and the work is thus commenced early in order to complete them this Summer. The demolition of the buildings creates considerable dust, and yesterday afternoon a breeze blowing caused a general hurricane on Wood street. Several of the merchants on that thoroughfare sent word to the Mayor's office to have the work stopped, and a policeman was sent down, but the contractor was not interfered with.

THE OLD GRANT HILL.—A day or two ago a mass of earth and rock fell from the top of the old Grant hill, on Diamond street, to the sidewalk on said street, inflicting considerable damage to a wagon which was standing near by. A great deal of the earth and rock about the top of the hill has become loosened by the action of the atmosphere, and the owners of the hill, to prevent any accident which might occur by another fall, yesterday set a force of workmen to work removing all the loose ground. It is also designed, we believe, to slope the hill off in such a manner as to prevent the possibility of another "slide."

TAXES FOR 1869.—The County Treasurer, Major Denniston, announces that he will be prepared to receive county, State, poor, work-house and improvement taxes for 1869 on and after the first of May. The duplicates will be in readiness at that time, and from that date until the first of August taxes will be received with a deduction of five per cent. There will be no deduction allowed if payment is deferred until after the first of August. Ten per cent. will be added to all taxes remaining unpaid on the first of September. Taxpayers will save time and money by settling their taxes within the time specified.

SALOON FIGHT.—On Saturday afternoon two men named L. Buttermore and William Hook, while in John Schaffer's saloon, on Penn street, became disorderly and abused the proprietor shamefully. The police were called in and the defendants taken into custody, but on the way to the lock-up Hook managed to escape. Buttermore also made an attempt to get free, but did not succeed, and yesterday morning Mayor Brush fined him $12 and costs. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Hook.

COMMON CASES.—Only five common cases were before Mayor Brush on Monday morning. Two of them were discharged, one paid the fine imposed, and two were committed.

STATION HOUSES.—The committee of Councils on city property, advertise for proposals for the erection of two station houses, one in the Twelfth and one in the Seventeenth ward.

ALLEGED INHUMAN TREATMENT.

A Young Girl Cruelly Beaten—The Accused Husband and Wife Committed for Trial.

We stated a day or two ago that a young German girl named Mena Weesner, had made information before Mayor Brush against Andrew and Elizabeth Malsch, charging them with inhuman treatment, and that the accused had been arrested and held for a hearing yesterday. At the appointed hour—ten o'clock in the morning—the case came on for a hearing. G. L. B. Fetterman, Esq., appearing for the prosecution. The defendants were not represented by counsel, and made no defense whatever. The hearing lasted for over two hours, and the testimony developed one of the most atrocious cases of inhuman treatment that has come to light recently.

From the testimony of the girl it appears she is about eighteen years of age, and has been living with the defendants for fourteen or fifteen years. They formerly resided in what is known as "Goosetown," in the Fourteenth ward, Pittsburg, but about four or five months ago they removed to Edwards alley, in Birmingham. Her testimony was to the effect that Mrs. Malsch beat her most unmercifully and inhumanly, and with anything she could lay her hands on when angry. She alleged that she had been cut with a knife by Mrs. Malsch, and in proof of the same exhibited her arms, hands and face, on which could be plainly seen scars without number. One scar on her face she said was produced by a tumbler which Mrs. Malsh struck her with during one of the beatings she gave her. It also appeared that she had been beaten with the poker and in addition thereto had the poker run down her throat and her teeth knocked out of her head. On several occasions her hands and feet were securely bound with thongs and she thrown into one corner of a dark room where she would lay in the condition described for half a day sometimes. On one occasion she says she was hung up to the cupboard door by the neck and kept there until she was black in the face, and in support of this gave the name of a little girl who witnessed the brutal act. She also stated that once she had been held by two young men while Mrs. Malsch pulled up here clothes, exposed her person and beat her. On another occasion Mrs. Malsch caught her by the mouth and stretched it from ear to ear. Malsch, the male defendant, also cruelly beat her and threatened on several occasions to kill her, although he never carried the threats into execution. She worked with Malsch, at Kline's machine shop, in Birmingham, earning the sum of three dollars and a half a week, which the Malsch's pocketed. She was compelled to go to work without breakfast and sometimes during the day they would send her a piece of bread to eat. In the evenings when she went home from work she would either have to go out and hunt Malsch up (he being on a drunk) or else go out and gather coal. She was very thinly clad, yet, notwithstanding, she was made go out every night during the Winter after returning from work to gather coal. She was unable to procure the coal on the street and consequently was compelled to go to the nearest coal yards and steal it. She went to school but one year while she was with the defendants, and that was while they lived in the Fourteenth ward. When she went to live with them they had no children, but now they have six, the oldest of which is about thirteen.

Among the witnesses called were neighbors residing in Birmingham and also some residing in the Fourteenth ward. They had never seen any of the treatment spoken of by the girl, such as the hanging or cutting, but they had heard her going to and from the house at all hours of the night carrying coal, and knew that she had to do it. Other witnesses testified that during all the time they (Malsch's) resided in the Fourteenth ward and Birmingham they were never known to have purchased a load of coal, the girl being compelled to keep the fires agoing, stealing the coal, in order to avoid whipping. One German woman, residing at "Goosetown," who saw the case reported in the German paper, came to the Mayor's office, unasked, to testify to the brutal treatment of the unfortunate girl. Her testimony was merely corroborative of that given above, and was principally in regard to the procuring of coal, she, like the rest, knowing nothing of the hanging or cutting. She testified, however, that the girl was not fitly clad to go out in wet weather, and her having regularly to gather coal excited comment in the entire neighborhood in which she resided. The same was related of her after their removal to Birmingham. It was also in evidence that she was not permitted to eat at the same table with the defendants, and that she had to wait and take just what they saw fit to give her, and then go to gathering coal. One way of punishment, some of the neighbors observed, was the catching of the girl by the hair and dragging her around as if she were not a human being.

The girl's evidence gave proof of the most brutal treatment imaginable, and many would be loth to believe it but for the ample corroboration of several respectable witnesses, not in whole but in many particular points. The girl looks to be about twelve years of age, but she avers she is eighteen, and probably she is, but no one would take her to be that old.

But we now come to the point in the narrative where the poor girl's brutal treatment is discovered, (she never having said much about it before,) and it came about in this wise.

Mr. Thomas McCoy, a gentleman residing in Birmingham, an engineer by occupation, is employed at a mill near the river bank. On the 19th of March last, while down on a sand boat which was lying in the river, he discovered the girl on the boat. She was very dirty, and her singular appearance attracted Mr. McCoy's attention. He watched for a few moments and believing that there was something wrong, approached and asked her what she was doing on the raft. She spoke of the treatment she had received, and said she had resolved to end her troubles by drowning herself. Mr. McCoy determined to learn the truth of this girl's almost incredible statements, took her to his home, and had her washed and cleaned up, and at a convenient opportunity she made known the whole of her long years of suffering. Mr. McCoy eventually became satisfied from the physical condition of the girl that she had been the subject of harsh treatment, and he accordingly prevailed upon her to make the information, which was preferred one day last week. Yesterday, however, a new information for seal-treatment was made out, and upon this information the case was heard. The bail was fixed in the sum of $300 each, and the parties, after remaining several hours in the lock-up without securing the necessary bondsmen, were committed to jail for trial. The girl will remain with Mr. McCoy, through whose instrumentality she will no doubt have the satisfaction of seeing her tormentors properly punished.

Central Passenger Railway Company.

A meeting of the corporators and stockholders of this Company was held at the office of E. P. Jones, Esq., on Grant street yesterday afternoon. The chairman of the corporators reported that all the stock had been subscribed, and that the Company was ready for organization. An election was then held for seven Directors, at which the following were chosen: C. Hanson Love, E. P. Jones, Max K. Moorhead, H. G. Herron, Chas. Jeremy, Robert Arthurs and H. L. McNish. The Directors immediately organized by electing the following officers: President, C. Hanson Love; Vice President, E. P. Jones; Secretary, Charles P. Duff; Treasurer, Max K. Moorhead. It is the intention of the Board of Directors, as soon as they obtain control of the Minersville Railway, to put it in thorough repair, and replace the old cars with new ones.

For Clerk of Courts.

In another column this morning we publish the card of John G. Brown, Esq., the present popular incumbent, announcing himself as a candidate for renomination for Clerk of Courts, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. Mr. Brown who served his country with fidelity, having lost an arm in the service during the rebellion, has also served the people of this county during his present term with the same faithfulness. He has been constant in his attendance upon his duties, and is altogether one of the most popular and efficient officers about the Court House. Should the county convention see fit to renominate him, its action will be indorsed by an old-fashioned majority.

SALE OF BALLOU'S VINEGAR ESTABLISHMENT.—The extensive vinegar establishment of A. Ballou, on Second avenue, which was confiscated for violation of the Internal Revenue laws, was sold Saturday by the United States Marshal. The property was heavily mortgaged, there being one mortgage of $11,500 on one building, and $12,000 on the other. The building on the north side of the avenue was knocked down for $275, and the other one brought $225. The stock and fixtures sold for about $1,000.

FALSE ALARM.—There was a false alarm of fire from box 21, Allegheny City, about one o'clock yesterday.

Woman and Her Needs.

Subject by the law of nature to many physical afflictions from which man is exempt, woman is peculiarly entitled to the best efforts of medical science in her behalf. For a majority of the ailments to which her sex is exclusively liable, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are warmly recommended on the authority of wives, mothers and nurses, who have tested their genial tonic and regulating properties, and "know whereof they speak;" and also with the sanction of able physicians who have administered the preparation to their female patients in obstinate cases of functional derangement with the happiest results. Almost all female complaints of a special character are complicated with mental gloom and despondency, and the gentle and lasting exhilarating effects of this wholesome medicated stimulant adapts admirably for cases of this complex nature. As a remedy for the hysteria and mental hallucinations which sometimes mark both the earlier and the later crisis in the life of woman, it has no equal in the repertory of the healing art, and as a means of relieving the nausea and other unpleasant feelings which precede maternity, it is equally efficacious. Nursing mothers also find it an admirable invigorant. It is highly satisfactory that a preparation which embraces in its remedial range so many of the complaints common to both sexes, should prove so eminently beneficial to the weaker one.
